

Tech News

Many of us have let our phones go dead. Well, there is a new technology that will allow you to charge your cell phone in as little as 10 seconds! It is an update to the traditional Lithium ion energy and involves using a special iron and phosphorus mix within the battery . This will allow the lithium ions to move in and out of storage within the lithium compound much faster than normal. With this design in place you can charge a 1wh cell phone battery in just 10 seconds or an entire electric car in about 5 minutes.

Always Innovating

will be letting out a hot new release. Although it is yet another notebook, it has a detachable (and optional) keyboard and a magnetic mount for sticking onto a refrigerator. Users can expect 10-15 hours of battery life. Detach, revert, flip, hold, carry. Check it out at

IT in Business

Economically times are hard. With budget cuts and layoffs, it is an important time for businesses to see the value that IT provides. Just because budgets are getting smaller doesn't mean that the demand for technology is, as well. We're in a time where we have to do more with less. Let CenterLine assist with the strategic growth of your organization. Business Executives need to be aware of the projects being worked on, the status of the projects, and how they contribute to the overall profitability of the company. By scheduling regular meetings and providing informative updates, resources and support from the top management will easily follow.

CenterLine on Channel 4

These past few months have been quite exciting for CenterLine Technologies. Brad recently had the privilege of being interviewed by Miss Diana Zoga from KMOV channel 4 news. The first subject... Click Jacking, a new scamming method that can effect any computer or any operating system. It is a browser based virus, and is caused by clicking your mouse. The whole purpose, to steal your financial information, and other important documents. No need to worry though there are updated software packages out to protect you! For a more in detail look follow this link:

The second subject, a new antivirus software that actually attacks your computer. The problem is that it runs what is known as a fake scan when really all the while it is digging into your personal files and finding your important data. This virus will find you while your out browsing and it will send you frequent updates saying you need to run a "scan". This is a scare tactic, it could actually shut down your computer or network, so please when in doubt don't click just ask one of your IT guys for help. For a more in detail look follow this link:
